Statement by Mr. Andrew Cox, UN Resident Coordinator in the Maldives on the recent events in the country

At this important time for the people of the Maldives, the United Nations is closely following recent events.

The United Nations recognizes the positive steps taken by the country in establishing democratic principles and values in recent years, and has every confidence that the Rule of Law will continue to be upheld.

The UN urges all parties in Maldives to work together in resolving the political situation and realizing their vision of a full and participatory democracy, and stands ready to assist in any way it can.
